Charles C. Hendricks: The Heart of Guilford College

We all admire those people who dedicate their lives to something greater than themselves. People have called such individuals heroes, saints, and loved ones. They are honored for their dedication, revered for their selflessness, and marveled for their passion. Such people are rare as is their passion. Selflessness, dedication and passion were not rare in the life of Charlie Hendricks.

Many of us here at Guilford recognize the name Hendricks, but not everyone knows much about the man behind the name. This year Charlie C. Hendricks, the man whom many say was the heart of Guilford College, was sadly lost. In the last couple of years, not many people were able to see him due to his declining health. I had the pleasure to meet him once, he was a wonderful man who I would have loved to talk with more. The best way to understand Charles Clifford Hendricks, or Charlie as he was better known, is to hear a little about his life and how others saw him.

Charlie was born in 1918 and grew up in Archdale, North Carolina in a Quaker community. His family lived on and worked the fields of a farm, however five out of the eight children in his family went off to college, including Charlie who attended Guilford College. Charlie and his brother Richard came here together in the fall of 1936. He remained in school until 1940 when he went back home to help on the farm and work with the Civilian Public Service. In 1949, Charlie was finally able to come back and complete his degree.

After officially becoming an alumnus, he stayed, and worked in various places and departments all over campus. From the manager of the soda shop to the college's first Director of Admissions, Charlie always enjoyed being around the students. He was so friendly and trusting of the students that he would lend out his car (filled with gas) and even money. He was the person on campus that everyone knew they could trust or ask for help.

For over sixty years, Charlie Hendricks had touched everyone in every department at Guilford. He was not just a student or a staff member, but a person that through his passion, selflessness, and dedication represented everything that Guilford College was and still is. His memory will live on in our hearts as the man who was the persona of Guilford College. Charlie will surely be missed.

"I am the fifth of five presidents of Guilford College for whom Charlie Hendricks has worked. There have been eight in total so that is quite an accomplishment. His presence and contributions over many years were among the earliest things I learned upon arriving on campus. The expression 'been there, done that' applies to Charlie more than anyone else I've ever known in higher education. In fact, when Don and Britta McNemar hosted me for breakfast upon my appointment, the only other person at the table was Charlie—a true right of passage for new presidents."

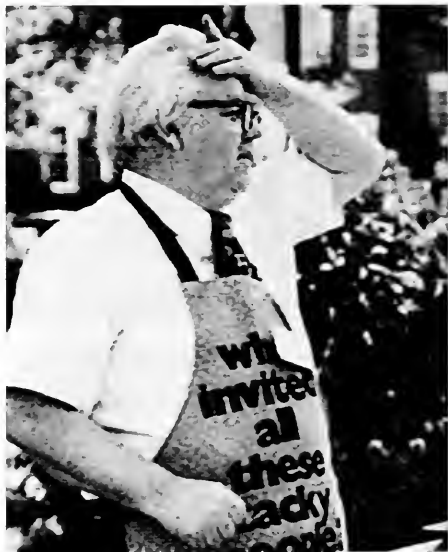

~ President Kent Chabotar

"I met Charlie soon after arriving at Guilford in 1975. I shared a thanksgiving dinner with him and his neighbor, Ed Burrows, my sophomore year. I nearly always found an excuse to drop by Charlie's house around dinnertime every night. A couple of years later he gave me a T-shirt for Christmas that had the words 'Hey Charlie' on the front and 'What's for dinner?' on the back."

~ Peter Reichard '80

"When I first arrived on the Guilford campus in September of 1949, one of the first people I met was Charlie Hendricks. You knew right away that he was the manager of the soda shop, which was the social meeting place. Charlie warmly welcomed new students to campus. Since it was necessary that I worked while in college to help defray expenses, Charlie provided me with a job working in the dining room. I think we were paid 40 cents an hour. Charlie was always willing to help 'his boys.' He would loan them money, his car (filled with gas), anything. He was the only person on campus that everyone knew would befriend anyone."

~ Bill Yates '53

"I remember the first time I saw Charlie. I was working the phones of a telethon trying to drum up some interest in the choir tour later that spring. There was Charlie talking up a storm, he just seemed to know everyone. He spoke so loud and everyone he called was his best friend. Then he would begin laughing at some inside joke from forty years ago, I imagine. How odd, this old man sitting in a room full of college kids, what a curiosity, a relic from a bygone era. As I got to know Charlie better and better over the years, I often thought back on that first meeting and had to laugh to myself. Yes, Charlie is a precious antique, but he is never out of place at Guilford. He was right at home there in the telethon, because Charlie has always been active in every aspect of the school.

During the choir trip, Charlie and I got acquainted...I told Charlie I would not be able to return to Guilford because my father had lost his job, and Guilford was too expensive. That was when 'Mr. Guilford College' rolled into action. He asked me a simple question, 'if you could afford Guilford, would you stay?' 'Of course,' I replied. That was all Charlie needed to hear and he set things into action.

Ed Lowe, the music director, told me that I qualified for a Choir Scholarship and would be receiving additional funds the following year. Charlie then asked if I would consider living with him at his house just off of campus. I said I would, but there was a new dean of student life that was strict with the rules. One of the toughest mandates that particular year was that off-campus housing was reserved strictly for upperclassmen and that freshman and sophomores were not eligible. I put my request in to move off-campus and was denied immediately. I let Charlie know, as he seemed to know a few people in high places. At the time I was rather naive and didn't fully understand Charlie's influence and position as 'Mr. Guilford College.'

Early into the summer I received a telephone call from a very angry administrator. He reluctantly allowed me to move off campus to live with Charlie. He said he didn't know how I did it, but even the President's wife, Beverly Rogers, called to request I be allowed to live with Charlie. He ended the call with, 'I'll allow this one, but I'll be watching you.' I am not sure where he is today, but I know Charlie is still at Guilford. I'll wager he gets his way too. If were not for Charlie, I would not have been able to remain at Guilford."

GUILFORD COLLEGE
 HISTORIC DISTRICT
 1880-1992
 COLLEGE CHARTERED 1934

Just days before new students arrived for the Fall Semester, the Guilford College Oak toppled to its side. The enormous corpse was hard to miss, spread out as it was next to New Garden.

Although no one actually witnessed its fall, groundskeeper Barbara Hill was the last to see it in an upright position. Shortly after mowing under The Oak at 7:45 a.m. on August 17th, she glanced back to see that it had fallen, crushing a picnic table under its weight.

The memorial service held a week later was one of Guilford's most publicized events of the year. The Oak was remember for its prominence and impressive size, and honored for its service as the college logo and symbol since the early 1980's when President Bill Rogers sketched it in its full glory.

German Party

The German Club Hosted a 2 week long visit from two of the teachers that run the Munich program for Guilford. Leo Brux and Bernhard Lehmand came in from Munich and spent the time going to German classes and giving talks to the students here at Guilford. The talks recieved exceptional atendance from both Guiflord students adn community members. This was an experience that allowed the student body and the community to leatn more about the culture and views from Germany while getting to know the teachers of our program better. After the talks the visit came to and end with a party to say a proper goodbye to these two teachers.

May we be reminded here of our highest aspirations, and inspired to bring our gifts of love and service to the altar of humanity. May we know once again that we are not isolated beings but connected, in mystery and miracle, to the universe, to this community and to each other.

If, here, you have found freedom, take it with you into the world. If you have found comfort, go and share it with others. If you have dreamed dreams, help one another that they may come true! If you have known love, give some back to a bruised and hurting world. Go in peace.

-Lauralyn Bellamy

Take courage friends. The way is often hard, the path is never clear, and the stakes are high. Take courage. For deep down, there is another truth. You are not alone.

-Wayne Amason

Go out into the highways and byways. Give the people something of your new vision. You may possess a small light, but uncover it, let it shine. Use it in order to bring more light and understanding to the hearts and minds of men and women. Give them not hell, but hope and courage, preach the kindness and everlasting love of God.

Thank you first to my family for all the support and love, and to my friends for being there and helping me be silly! Monica - How you lived with me every year is beyond me, but we had a good time that's for sure. Sally - There is not just anyone who I can go to an outhouse with then sleep under the stars together. To all the rest I love you much, just don't have the room to share our silly times. To Kyle, I love you always, thanks for helping me through the last two years, I am not sure if I could have made it without you! Now on to Faculty: Dave: Thanks so much for always believing that my German was not as bad as I thought, you were one of the few that made me feel that I was capable of anything. Thanks, Lynn: If it weren't for you I may have never gotten through Biology, you made everything fun and interesting and helped me figure out what I want to do. Thank you, Guilford I will miss you always!

I would like to thank my family for the constant love and support they have shown me through these years. Without you all I would not have been able to be here and achieve my dreams of playing college volleyball and becoming a teacher. Thank you so much for everything you have done for me and thank you for the best 4 years of my life. I love you all! Phillipians 4:13

To my friends...I love you all! Thank for all the memories and experiences. Without you all I would have been 20 times more crazy than I am normally. Thanks for everything and best of luck in the future!

To You, I love you! Thank you for all the love and support you have shown me through everything. I have grown and matured in the love you have shown me. I am ready to take on the world and is because of the belief you have in me and my strengths. Thank you and I love you!

Two slugs slithered on a yellow wood
And sorry I could not trample both,
Being one trampler, long I stood
And looked them down as fierce I could
To where they sat in the undergrowth...

I will be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere sitting upon a fence:
Two slugs slithered on a yellow wood
And I—I ate the slug less trampled by,
And that has made all the difference.

A few thank you's

To Mom, Dad and Tavia: For all the love and support that was so unconditionally provided, including all the money. What more can I say?

To Dave: Für Alles das du für mich getan hast. Grasse zu Laura, Kat und Elin. Ich werde ihr vermissen! Aber das ist gar keine Ende, sondern eine neue Anfang. Du hast mein Leben total und für immer verändert.

To Jeff, Chrissy and Tim: Two out of the three aren't here anymore. Regardless, thank you for the friendship, guidance and experience you have so wonderfully provided. I hope to go far with what you've taught me.

Rachel Chaffin

I met a traveler from an antique land
Who said: Two vast and trunkless legs of stone
Stand in the desert. Near them, on the sand,
Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose
frown,
And wrinkled lip, and sneer of cold
command,
Tell that its sculptor well those passions
read,
Which yet survive, stamped on these
lifeless things,
The hand that mocked them, and the heart
that fed,
And on the pedestal these words appear:
"My name is Ozymandias, King of Kings;
Look upon my works, ye Mighty, and despair!"
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare
The lone and level sands stretch far away.

-Percy Bysshe Shelley
1792-1822

Chris Imms

To my Mom and Steve for always being there for me. I thank you. To my friends: Eric, Ivy, Hannah, Little Lauren, Big Lauren, Charlie, Nate, Clark, Owen, and Adam. You guys truly are my family and I love you all. To the Theatre Studies Department for all your camaraderie and support. To Heather, thank you for being you. You are the love of my life.
Thank you all for everything

"You must always have a secret plan. Everything depends on this: it is the only question. So as not to be conquered by the conquered territory in which you lead your life, so as not to feel the horrible weight of inertia wrecking your will and bending you to that ground, you must make secret plans without respite. So as not to be the martyred slaves of routine, plan adventure, plan pleasure, plan pandemonium, as you wish; but plan, lay plans constantly." -Anonymous

Over the next few months many of us will begin our professional careers with the organizations that we have chosen to pursue employment with or begin graduate school at our universities of choice. We must never forget what we have learned from the faculty and staff here at Guilford College and we must remember to always be confident in the decisions that we make. As a single person we can do nothing, but through the help of others we can influence the world.

Mark Davis

Thanks especially Mom and Dad for all your help and support. It was great seeing you at all of my games. I appreciate all you have done and love you so much. Chad and Bryan I will never forget Mardi Gras and all the great times we had. And fellas the road trips were a blast. God Bless America!!

I've had a great four years at Guilford that I will never forget. I want to thank my friends and family for everything, as I wouldn't be graduating if it weren't for you all. Thanks to my parents and my grandpa for their support and encouragement. Thanks to my professors, especially Jerry Joplin and Will Pizio, for inspiring and challenging me intellectually. Last but not last, I want to thank all my wonderful friends for the great times and good memories, especially Melodi, Sparker, JoJo, and Hoolia. It wouldn't have been the same without you. As I leave Guilford, I an't help but notice how much school has changed in the past year or two. I just hope that the current and future students will continue to keep the unique spirit of Guilford College alive. Remember: "You were once wild here. Don't let them tame you." - Isadora Duncan.

Congratulations

2005 Graduates

I would just like to thank everyone who helped make this book possible. Especially John Bell and the Sports department for supplying pictures. Thanks also goes out to everyone who donated pictures and spent anytime on the book. Hope everyone enjoys the book!!! 2005 was a great year, and I have to say I am sad that it was my last here. Continue to enjoy Guilford while you are still here.
